HOLY NAME.

Monsignor Sheppard Writes of the Great Anti-Profanity Society.

Principal Object to Place Clean Tongues in Heads of Men.

How the Idea of Holding the Annual Parade of Society Originated.

GREAT OBJECT LESSON IN MORALITY

The first annual parade of the Holy Name Society of Hudson county, N. J., as a protest against profanity, was held October 2, 1905, when 13,000 men marched in the line. This year three parades were held Sunday, October 7. In Jersey City 13,500 were in line, 12,000 in Newark and 5,000 in Paterson.

Monsignor John A. Sheppard, Vicar General of the Diocese of Newark, writes an interesting article following the last parade, in which he says:

The objects of the Holy Name Society are to place clean tongues in men's heads, to do away with cursing and swearing, to promote the use of decent language, and finally to create respect for a man's oath. Perjury in our courts has become too common; so common indeed that little or nothing is thought about it. A man will take an oath on entering a jury box to decide the case before the court up the law and evidence when his decision has been bought before he ever enters the box, or a witness will take an oath to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth when he has no intention of living up to his oath. It is our object to make the oath mean all that it should mean.

The idea of holding an annual parade of the Holy Name Society originated with a number of the younger clergy of Hudson county, N. J., appointed by the rectors of the different parishes throughout the diocese. It has been the custom for some time in the different branches of the society to hold an annual parade and meeting of the members of the local organization, but a little more than a year ago the idea of federating the societies of the diocese and instead of holding several small parades holding one large one suggested itself to a number of the local directors of the society, and they came to me for advice on the subject. I thought well of the scheme and consulted Bishop John J. O'Connor, of South Orange, in regard to the proposition. The Bishop heartily approved of the plan, and a federation of the societies immediately followed.

I had the honor of being elected the first President of the federation and lost no time in sending out a call to all the branches of the society in the county to meet for the first parade of the federation on October 2, which day we had decided upon as Holy Name Society Day. The call was answered by delegations from every branch organization in the diocese, aggregating 1,300 men—1,300 men supposed to be clean-tongued themselves and willing to do missionary work for the cause among their fellow-men.

This year, because of the wonderful growth of the societies in the diocese to an aggregate membership of more than 40,000, it was considered impossible to hold one parade in one place, so the scheme of holding three parades—one in Jersey City, one in Newark and one in Paterson—was resorted to. There were 13,500 men in line in Jersey City, 12,000 in Newark and 5,000 in Paterson.

There were 30,000 men who had pledged themselves not to use profanity and to regard the sanctity of an oath. I consider this one of the greatest object lessons in morality that could be presented. It also proves that men still have religion. The effect of the movement has been very encouraging. While it has been impossible, of course, to keep close watch, general observation has shown beyond a doubt that the members of the society have as a body been faithful to their pledges.

In this city the Holy Name Society of St. Louis Bertrand's church has for several years been recognized as one of the largest and most powerful of our Catholic organizations, and it is constantly doing a wonderful amount of good.

MISSION NEXT WEEK.

Beginning tomorrow morning with a high mass at 10 o'clock Fathers Alexander and Charles, two of the most able and eloquent pulpiter orators in the Passionist order, will open a mission for men and women at Holy Cross church on West Broadway that will continue daily throughout the week and close on the following Sunday. The exercises in the morning and evening will be of the usual order, and as this is the first mission held at Holy Cross for some time past Rev. Father Sheridan expects a large attendance of people from his own and adjoining parishes.

PLAIN IRISH.

Sir Thomas Lipton visited Milwaukee last week and was wined and dined and effused with entertainment. Toastmaster Vilas and others called him an Englishman and English-

American, but at the Soldiers' Home Sir Thomas corrected Gov. Wheeler and said: "I am an Irishman." There is nothing English about Lipton in speech or appearance. He is a tall, stoop-shouldered, strongly built man, with a ruddy weather-beaten countenance, thin gray hair, a pair of shrewd deep-set eyes, and a "smile that won't come off." He has a rather rich brogue, soft as a whole, but with the Scotch hardness of the "far down" in spots. Sir Thomas is not an Anglo-Saxon. His parents were born at Clonnes, County Monaghan, Ireland, and he was born in Glasgow. He is plain Irish and proud of it. All of his own challenging yachts have been named Shamrock.

CARDINAL FOR AMERICA.

Reported Archbishop Farley May Be Raised to That Dignity.

The New York Tribune of Tuesday says that private advices received in that city tend to confirm the report current in ecclesiastical circles for some weeks past that the matter of another Cardinalate for the United States has been definitely settled, and that Archbishop Farley will be raised to that dignity at the coming December Consistory, along with Mr. Bourne, the Archbishop of Westminster; a German prelate and possibly a Spanish prelate.

While there is nothing really authentic in the foregoing, such action upon the part of Pius X. and the next Consistory would occasion little surprise in the United States. Of late there have been many reports and surmises regarding the appointment of another Cardinal, the names most mentioned being Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul; Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia; and Archbishop Farley, but they turned out to have no foundation in fact. There is no doubt but that another Cardinal will be created, and one fit for the place is the Most Rev. John J. Glennon, the brilliant young Archbishop of St. Louis.

CONSECRATED

Pittsburg's Magnificent New Cathedral With Impressive Ceremonies.

The magnificent new $2,000,000 Catholic Cathedral at Pittsburg was dedicated and consecrated on Wednesday in the presence of Papal Delegates, Cardinal Gibbons and a large gathering of Archbishops, Bishops and priests, with the most impressive ceremonies ever witnessed in Pennsylvania. The Cathedral has been completed for several months, but Bishop Caney refused to allow it to be opened until the debt was lifted. It is the finest Cathedral in the United States, with the exception of St. Patrick's in New York.

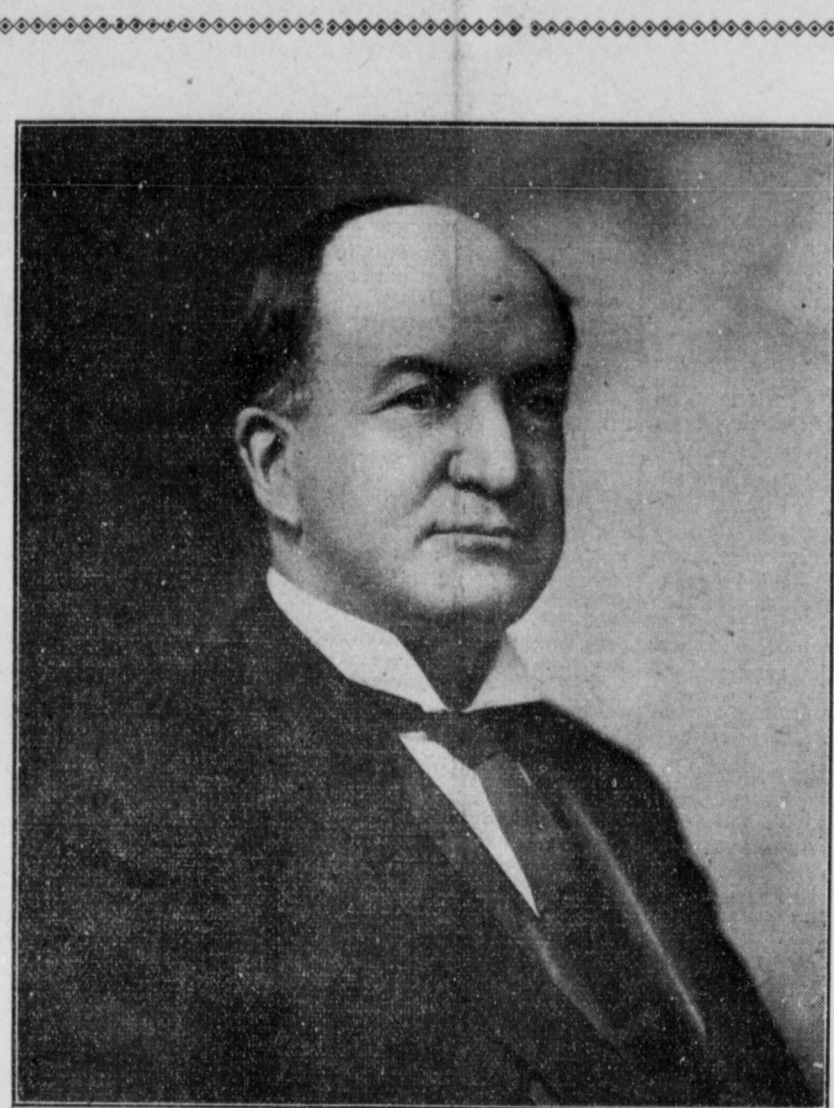

The new Cathedral is known as St. Paul's. A large part of the money to pay for it was obtained by the sale of the old Cathedral site, in the business heart of the city, to H. C. Frick, the steel magnate, for $1,000,000. The exterior of St. Paul's shows a Gothic structure of sweeping lines capped by tall twin towers. The style of the architecture is what may be designated as a pure example of the traditional or scholastic Gothic of the fourteenth century, the full flower of the "decorated Gothic," as it is technically called. The structure externally is of stone, from base course to the summit of each spire. The front presents an imposing facade, extending on Fifth avenue for a width of 120 feet over both towers, the main front gable rising to 120 feet, and each tower spire to 250 feet. The doorway is in three parts, surmounted by moulded and carved arches and lofty pediments, adorned with statues, the central pediment over the main entrance being forty feet high and surmounted by a colossal statue of St. Paul. The interior is in keeping with the magnificence of the exterior.

O'CONNOR DEPARTS.

A reception was given T. P. O'Connor and his associate members of Parliament from Ireland, Edward Blake, Thomas J. Kettle and Richard Hazleton, at Carnegie Hall last Sunday night by the United Irish League of New York City. Supreme Court Justice Martin C. Keough was Chairman of the meeting, and seated with the visiting members of Parliament were Michael J. Ryan, President of the United Irish League, of Philadelphia, Mgr. Lavelle and Col. Duffy and other officers of the Sixty-ninth regiment. O'Connor has sailed for home, but Messrs. Kettle and Hazleton will remain here for several weeks. The great hall was thronged with people and resolutions endorsing John Redmond and the Irish Parliamentary party were adopted without a dissenting vote.

DASTARDLY ASSAULT.

Miss Kate Doyle, residing with her father at 1911 Floyd street, was the victim of a dastardly assault by an unknown negro Tuesday night. Miss Doyle and the other members of the family had been away from home during the day, returning about 9 o'clock. When the young lady went into the yard to bring some flowers into the house she was grasped by a negro from whom she broke away and escaped into the house, but not before she had been hit twice. The brute inflicted painful injuries with an instrument with a blunt edge, and her physician says she will be confined to her home for some time.

JAMES B. MCCREARY.
Democratic Candidate for Re-election to the United States Senate.

GERMANY

Will Get Two Additional Cardinals and France Lose Three.

Announced That Appointments Will Be Made at December Consistory.

Holy Father Opposing Opening of Public Houses in Rome.

CARDINAL RICHARD IS VERY ILL

Rome dispatches of the last week say it is now officially announced that besides the Archbishop of Westminster two German prelates will be promoted to the Sacred College at the Consistory of December. They are the Archbishop of Mechlin, Mgr. Mercier and the Bishop of Thier, Mgr. Korm. The nomination of two additional German Cardinals will not cause the promotion of the French prelates, however, as notwithstanding the recent death of three French Cardinals the Vatican authorities are determined not to promote any prelate of French nationality to the Sacred College until an agreement shall have been entered into with the French officials regarding the modality of separation between Church and State.

Information has just reached the Vatican from Paris that Cardinal Richard, the Archbishop of that city, is very ill. He is now over eighty years old, and as the present situation of the church in France has greatly worried him, grave fears are entertained at the Vatican that he may not survive the attack. Pius X. is in daily communication by long-distance telephone with the Archbishop's Palace in Paris, and keeps informed of the condition of the Cardinal, which up to the present does not give any reason for despair.

However, the Cardinal's succession to the archdiocese was provided for some months ago, at the request of the Cardinal himself, through the appointment of Mgr. Amette as Coadjutor Bishop with the right of succession.

Another Cardinal who is very ill in Rome is Cardinal Tripepi, and his medical attendants declare that the prelate will not survive the present attack. This cardinal is the heaviest member of the Sacred College, turning the scales at nearly 300 pounds. Pius X. has just come out strongly against the public houses established in the Eternal City, owing to the fact that many crimes have recently been committed by the "Mala Vita," an organization bearing much similarity with the Mafia and the "Black Hand," as known in the United States. Speaking a few days ago with a prelate, who because of his pastoral position comes daily in contact with the lowest classes of population in Rome, Pius X. was informed that the many murders which recently stained the reputation of the city were principally caused by the large number of public houses which were allowed to thrive in every quarter of this capital. Pius X. suggested that the best way to abolish the evil would be found if the parish priests of Rome took a concerted action, and strongly objected to the police officials whenever a new public house came to be established in their parishes.

The Pope also said that the priests of the Roman parishes could also exert some pressure on the owners of the property in their districts and advise them to refuse to rent any locality for such a purpose as a public resort.

WORTHY APPEAL.

Great Loss Sustained by St. Boniface Church at Jellico.

The Rev. Father Paul Meyer, O. S. B., pastor of St. Boniface church at Jellico, Tenn., has issued an appeal for aid that is deserving of recognition. When the little town of Jellico, situated partly in this State and partly in Tennessee, was almost ruined by the explosion of a car load of dynamite, with a loss of life, limb and shelter and plunged the whole community into sorrow and misery, the little Catholic congregation of St. Boniface suffered great damage to both church and parish house, which barely escaped total demolition. All the windows are gone, the plastering broken loose, flues and chimneys destroyed, the roof made useless and even rafters and joists broken in two, not to speak of injured furniture and ruined church articles.

Father Meyer says something must be done at once to re-establish the house of God and fix an abode for the priest's house. As winter is impending the work ought to be done at once, but there is no money to pay for it. The congregation is poor and small and can not be depended upon, and he therefore turns hopefully to the more fortunate, asking in the name of the loving heart of Jesus for a gift to allay the misery of the situation. Those who can do so should send their donations direct to Father Meyer at Jellico, Tenn.

FESTIVAL A SUCCESS.

Large Crowds Visited Mackin Council Club House Nightly.

Mackin Council's fall festival has proven a decided success. Every night this week throngs have visited the club house and were well entertained. The oodles and decorations were exceedingly pretty, and at each there was a corps of lady attendants whose gracious affability kept the young men lingering till their pocket-books were nearly empty. Monday night's lecture on views of Ireland were enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience, and the programmes for the subsequent nights were well received. There was a great outpouring Thursday night, all of the local Catholic societies sending large delegations. The festival will close tonight with the announcement of the winners in the piano contest and a grand distribution of prizes. A great number of articles yet remain to be disposed of, and the committee will therefore make tonight one for bargain seekers. If there are any young people who have not yet visited the festival they should do so this evening.

NEARLY READY.

The new Catholic church, being erected on West Market street is well under way, and it now seems probable that it will be ready for occupancy in time for the Christmas services. There are a large number of Catholics in its vicinity who are anxious for its completion.

M'CREARY.

Statesman Soldier and Patriot the Next Senator From Kentucky.

Has Characteristics That Distinguish Sons of the Emerald Isle.

Recognized Everywhere as Man of Good Mind and High Ideals.

WILL RECEIVE GREAT MAJORITY

The ever green Emerald Isle has been notable through long centuries for its production of splendid men. Both at home and elsewhere her sons have been distinguished for their patriotism and the characteristics of head and heart that tend to form the well regulated and rounded man. This is as true of those Americans who through their ancestry hark back to the old country as it is of those who have remained in Ireland. It is small wonder therefore that the Irish-American finds pride in the thought that in James B. McCreary the old adage is found true, that "blood will tell."

James B. McCreary, Kentucky's favorite son, is now in his intellectual prime. He evinced early a sturdy patriotism. When but a lad he volunteered his services to the Confederate Government and for four years fought bravely as a soldier in the ranks. The war over, he reassumed the practice of law. His neighbors saw in the courteous young soldier-lawyer a man of good mind and high ideals and they sent him as their representative to the Kentucky Legislature. Twice thereafter he was returned, the Republicans in his district refusing to oppose him, and on both occasions he was elected Speaker of the House, being the first and last Kentuckian to receive the honor of two consecutive terms as Speaker. By this time Senator McCreary's reputation as a clean, Christian gentleman in his private life and an honorable, incorruptible public servant was State wide, and he was nominated by the Democrats as their candidate for Governor, being the youngest man ever shown that distinction. Overwhelmingly elected, he received the appellation of the "Model Governor." His term was marked by many reforms and an economical administration of affairs, and he vacated office with the respect and trust of the entire Commonwealth.

McCreary's Christian attributes, his kindly and courteous ways, his splendid mental equipment, his reputation for fidelity to the cause of the people and his temperate life were such as to not long allow him to remain a private citizen, and he was nominated by his party for Congress. At Washington he was readily accepted as a conservative and safe member, and was not long in forging to the front as a national figure. Four times thereafter he was unanimously named by his party and re-elected by the people of his district. His service at Washington was varied and notable and he was several times sent to foreign countries as a member of an especial committee. Quitting this post, he again practiced law at his home in Richmond, but he never forgot his obligations and in every campaign organized and spoke for his party.

In the dark and gloomy days of 1900 he was the united choice of his party for Campaign Chairman, and it was to him more than to any other one factor that the present Governor was elected. In 1902 Senator McCreary was elected by a large majority to his present office of United States Senator. No man in all that historic chamber stands higher for an exemplary private and public life than Senator McCreary. No breath of scandal has ever been whispered against his name, and throughout the Union he is recognized as a statesman of the old school, unfamiliar with and intolerant of the present day political machine and its petty manipulators. Without detracting from the usefulness of any of Kentucky's past Senators, it is within the truth to say that no one has accomplished more for his State than our present Senator.

In asking an endorsement of his course in the Senate, McCreary is asking for the maintenance of a precedent that has never been violated—that of giving two terms to a faithful and useful public servant.

Senator McCreary is intimately acquainted in every county of the State and his friends are absolutely confident of his re-election by the biggest majority ever accorded a candidate in Kentucky.

HATED LANDLORD.

William Scully, Dead in London, Responsible For Irish Land Act.

The death of William Scully revealed the fact that the house in strict seclusion for many years was in his wife's name. He was in receipt of an annual income of $300,000 in rents from his estate in Illinois and the early part of his life was passed amid exciting scenes caused by his exactions as a landlord. His tenantry in Ireland hated him bitterly, and in 1868 their revolt led to the so-called battle of Bally Cooley. Scully led a party of policemen and bailiffs against the house of a tenant and was met by a fusillade of revolver shots. The fire was returned and when the battle was over two of the attacking party were dead and Scully himself was seriously wounded. The direct result of this fierce fight was the introduction by Gladstone in 1870 of the first land act. Scully subsequently went to America, and in Illinois owned 72,000 acres of land. His oppressive attitude toward his tenants aroused fierce feeling and compelled his return to London. Each year his American representatives sent him between $200,000 and $300,000, and this sum regularly drained from the State of Illinois excited strong criticism.

MILLION DOLLARS.

Archbishop Ireland's Cathedral Will Be Masterpiece of Architecture.

The work for the foundation of Archbishop Ireland's new million dollar Cathedral, which is to be erected in St. Paul, is progressing rapidly. As planned the edifice will be a masterpiece of architecture. The ground plan of the Cathedral is that of a Greek cross. The only pillars that will be used will be to support the dome, and as this rises from the intersection of the nave and the transept these will encircle the main body of the auditorium, within which 2,700 people can be seated. The entire seating capacity of the Cathedral will be 4,000. The main feature of the edifice will be the dome, which will be as large as that of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, being 120 in diameter. About the dome there will be twenty-four large windows, which will be so arranged as to light the entire auditorium below. The whole length of the building is to be 274 feet, and its width at the transept 244 feet. The interior height of the dome is 175 feet and the top of the cross on the outside will be 280 feet above the street level.

FOOTBALL FATALITY.

While thousands were witnessing a game of football last Saturday at Star Park in Syracuse a section of the stand gave way, precipitating hundreds to the ground and injuring many. Among the latter was the Rev. Christopher Donigan, assistant rector of St. John's church on Look street, one of the most popular young priests in the Syracuse diocese. Father Donigan's spine was fractured, and despite all that medical skill could do he died twenty-four hours later. His remains were taken to the home of his parents, where funeral services were held Wednesday. Not for a long time has a death caused more widespread sorrow in Central New York.

OPENED WITH EUCHRE.

St. Catherine's Council, Y. M. C. of New Haven, opened its social season on Friday night of last week with a euchre party for its members, and Thursday night gave an old-fashioned dance that was greatly enjoyed by the large number present. The social affairs of this council are directed by Grand Secretary Dawson, John Barry and the officers, and are appreciated by the young men and women of the town, who spend many pleasant evenings in the club room during the fall and winter months.

COMPLEX

Are the Issues That Are Before the People in Coming Election.

Predictions Based on Conditions Existing in Many States.

Apathy, Muddles, Whisky, Bossism, Tangles and Broken Party Lines.

IN KENTUCKY THERE IS HARMONY

Politics throughout the country are at fever heat, and in all the States except Kentucky the fight is quite bitter. There has been a decided change of sentiment during the past four years, and the issues that have been introduced make the contests rather complex. While not predicting results the situation appears to favor the Democrats. A more muddled condition than exists now has not marked Pennsylvania politics since the civil war was an issue. Scandals attending the Capitol at Harrisburg, which cost $13,000,000, have forced Stuart, Republican candidate for Governor, to proclaim himself above his party and to pledge aggressive inquiry and criminal prosecutions if elected. Emery, the Fusion candidate, has announced a platform, "Offices for honest men, prison stripes for grafters." Availability was unquestioned. It developed that he was with Standard Oil Company and that Stuart had been issued for his arrest. The City of Philadelphia will decide the issue in the State. Dr. Clarence Gibbons, the Comstock of Philadelphia, is the Fusion candidate for District Attorney, against Samuel P. Rotan, regular Republican, who was named at the eleventh hour. The election of Gibbons will mean the elimination of Senator Penrose as a local factor, and the ascendancy of John Wanamaker as a candidate for the United States Senate.

There is less interest in the campaign in Connecticut this fall than ever before. Even the party papers are giving more space to the New York campaign than to the one there. Bryanism and Hearstism have cast a blight upon the Democratic party in Connecticut, and it is not gathering any new voters to its folds. The Democratic managers charge extravagance in the State management. The Republican majority of 25,572 two years ago will be reduced and the Republicans feel certain of both branches of the Legislature.

While there are four tickets in the field there seems to be little doubt that Wisconsin, as in many years past, will go Republican. The Republican ticket is headed by Gov. Davidson, who may be re-elected in spite of the fight Senator La Follette made on the Democratic side is John Aylward, a Madison lawyer. The platforms of the parties differ but little in the main. Both are for a continuance of the reforms inaugurated by La Follette, and especially for regulation of corporations by the State. Both parties profess to be original sponsors of these reforms. So far as the Democrats and Republicans are concerned, the lines are distinctly drawn. The situation in the Republican party is unique in that the La Follette faction is at odds with the Republican nominee and may be the cause of his defeat.

Nebraska will vote on a proposed constitutional amendment providing for a State Railroad Commission with power to prohibit rebates and discriminations, and to regulate freight and passenger rates within the State. Around this amendment the two parties have erected platforms consisting almost entirely of railroad planks. Both platforms also demand the abolition of the common law fellow-servant rule, touching liability of employers; a direct primary law, economy in State appropriations. The Democratic platform demands a two-cent passenger rate, abolition of the professional lobbyist, the enforcement of the maximum freight rate law and the election of Senators by direct vote. On the whole it is probable that party lines will be more closely drawn than in many recent elections.

There is scarcely any interest in the State campaign in Illinois. There are no issues except local issues. The State Democratic Committee is not making any State campaign, but is working in the Congressional districts, and expects to win back four or five districts that went over with the Roosevelt landslide. The county Democratic organizations are making a fight to win back seventeen counties which were won by the Republicans in 1904.

The campaign in Ohio is by far the most apathetic in years. It is even more listless than in 1892. Inactivity has characterized the State headquarters of both parties. No systematic assignment of speakers has been attempted. The candidates have been allowed to take their own courses and have generally followed the county fairs. The State ticket is the shortest in the history in the State, the Legislature in adopting biennial elections cutting out the annual election of a Supreme Judge this year. The campaign in Missouri has been conducted almost without an issue. The Republican nominee for Governor is not a strong man personally and the way in which he was nomi-

HALLOWEEN.

Next Wednesday night will be Halloween, a night very dear to people of the Celtic race. It is given to sport in part, and yet by some it is held in great reverence and dread, weighted by possibilities of great importance to them. The night will be celebrated in many homes in this city. The celebration of the night seems to increase in Louisville and is not now confined to Catholics or Celts, but is enjoyed by all young people.

JUDGE HAGER.

Of the two Democratic aspirants for the Democratic nomination for Governor Judge Samuel W. Hager seems certain to win. By honoring Judge Hager the Democrats will honor themselves, as he is a square, straightforward man, with a record that shows ability and integrity of the highest order. It is quite a tribute to the good record of Judge Hager that a number of aspirants refused to oppose him for the nomination. Judge Hager is a Democrat, but he has been so fair and impartial in conducting the office he has held that both parties have been well satisfied, and a large number of Republicans will cast their votes for him in the gubernatorial election. His duties, too, have been well performed and the people of the State are the gainers thereby.

LIFT THE DEBT.

Very Rev. Father Deppen makes a timely and wise suggestion to the readers of the Record in connection with the coming bazar for the Sisters of the Good Shepherd. Let the Catholics of Louisville, he says, put their shoulders to the wheel and lift the burdensome debt resting upon the good Sisters of that sacred, historical House of the Good Shepherd. That unrepentant convent on Eighth street is the cradle of the now vastly grown and widely extended Order of the Good Shepherd in the United States. Its hard-working, unselfish Sisters deserve this; their silent, far-reaching and telling works for the good of church and city merit this. They and their convent, and their schools attached to it, have been a blessing to Louisville for fully sixty years. Let our citizens then, next month, when the Sisters' bazar opens, do among other things their Christmas shopping at Leidenkranz Hall.

POPULAR CANDIDATE.

Hon. Swagar Sherley is without doubt the popular candidate for Congress in this district. He is now attending various meetings and making speeches that count with the people. Mr. Sherley is able and honest and his addresses have the right ring, showing that he is just the man to fill the place. He was born in this city and since manhood has been identified with every movement that would make a larger and better Louisville. His services in Congress have been invaluable, and it was to his efforts alone that the Marine Hospital was continued here. Congressman Sherley wields a wide influence in the House of Representatives, and to make a change at this time would be the height of folly. When the bill for the erection of a monument to Commodore Jack Barry was before the House Mr. Sherley worked and voted for its passage, and in gratitude for his just action he will receive the hearty support of the Irish-American voters. As the next House of Representatives may be Democratic the return of Mr. Sherley would mean much for this city.

VOTE FOR BOND ISSUE.

The movement for the improvement of the sewerage system of Louisville should have the hearty support of small property owners and the working classes, as they are certain to be the greatest beneficiaries. As the city grows the necessity for better sanitary conditions increases. Vote for the bonds and build the sewers now and thus secure healthful surroundings. The longer they are delayed the more dangerous becomes the situation and the more our citizens will have to pay for them. Voters should think of the welfare of their families and vote for sewer bonds when they go to cast their ballots on November 6, remember that one life is worth more than the entire expense of the sewers, and that if they are not constructed soon there may be an epidemic of malaria and other illness that will cost dearly. Vote for the sewer bonds, insure the health of our people, give employment to thousands of laboring men, and bring to Louisville hundreds of new industries.

According to the late press dispatches those American girls who married European titles during the past few years are now beginning to reap the results of their disregard for the sturdy young men of their native country. The Caldwell, Gould, Vanderbilt and Zimmerman girls are all seeking separation from their husbands, who cared only for their money. There is not an honest workman on this side of the big pond who would not have made them a better protector than the debt-burdened fools to whom these foolish women linked themselves for an empty title.

"If people will bury their prejudices on this matter (the sewer bonds) they won't bury so many of their children. The foregoing is the significant utterance of Peter Lee Atherton, one of Louisville's heaviest taxpayers, and fathers should keep it in mind and vote for new sewers on election day.

Press dispatches the first of the week reported the Pope in a serious condition, but later it was stated that the head of the church had improved and was able to receive the English pilgrimage Thursday morning.

Edward James Sanderson, Unionist member of Parliament for Armagh North, who has been critically ill of pneumonia at Castle Sanderson, died last Sunday. He was fifty-nine years old.

This year the feast of All Saints will fall on Thursday, the Immaculate Conception on Saturday, Christmas on Tuesday, and New Years also on Tuesday.

JUDGE KIRBY

Renders a Decision of Much Importance to Organized Labor.

Last Saturday at the joint session of the Jefferson Circuit Court Judge Samuel B. Kirby rendered a decision that will be of much importance to organized labor, in which he pointed out the constitutional rights of laborers in strikes and boycotts. The case was that of the Pfaffing Packing Company for an injunction against the Butchers' Union, which was refused in a lengthy opinion, which says in part:

"One of the first rights of every person in this country, guaranteed to him by the Federal constitution, is the right to control his own labor, and a laborer may, with or without reason, decline to work for anyone or with anyone, and the damage which such persons may sustain from this refusal is immaterial. If one laborer enjoys this right he does not lose it when acting with others; hence it follows that a strike, that is, the simultaneous desisting from work of a body of workmen, is not per se unlawful. Another absolute right which every individual may enjoy is his power of persuasion, provided the appeal be not diverted to the accomplishment of an unlawful purpose. It is therefore not unlawful nor actionable for workmen or laborers to persuade other employees to leave the service of this employer or to dissuade other workmen from seeking employment from him. The third right of the laborer is to refuse to trade with any person absolutely or contingently. The admission of this right in conjunction with the other two settles the right of a labor union to use against an unwilling employer the means of inflicting injury which from its derivation is termed 'boycott.' This is the refusal of the members of the union to have any dealings with the employer or with any person who deals with him. So long as strikers employ no other means to deter persons from dealing with the employer except persuasion and the withdrawal of their own patronage from such persons, there is nothing illegal or criminal in this action."

LOSE BY DEATH.

St. John's Benefit Society of St. Vincent de Paul's church has suffered a great loss by the death of Thomas Carpenter and Charles Moore, two of its best known members, and Mrs. Strubel. Mr. Carpenter and Mrs. Strubel were among the founders of the society. Mr. Moore was a young man of sterling qualities, and leaves a wife and infant child to mourn his demise. At the regular meeting the death claims of the three were allowed. This is one of our Catholic societies that is doing splendid work, and has been the means of affording much relief from sickness and suffering.

SOCIETY.

Mrs. R. S. Weaver, of Oakdale, has been in Frankfort visiting Mrs. Hugh Tobin.

Mrs. H. D. Rodman, who was here visiting relatives, has returned to her home in Bardonia.

Miss Katherine Robertson has been in East St. Louis for a week as the guest of her sister.

Mrs. Nannie McKenna and son Samuel left Saturday last to visit friends at Floyd Knob, Ind.

Mrs. Joseph Eakin, who was here for a week visiting relatives, left Monday for her home in New York.

Miss Jessie McCauliffe, of South Louisville, is home from a pleasant visit to relatives at Georgetown, Ind.

Miss Rita Mannion, who has been ill at her home on Eighteenth street, is reported on the way to speedy recovery.

Nevil B. White, a well known resident of Frankfort, spent several days here visiting Oscar Willis and other friends, and was a welcome caller at the Kentucky Irish American office.

Edmund Gerst and bride, who was Miss Irene Berle, will return next week from their honeymoon, spent in the East, and will make their home with the bride's parents at 439 East Market street.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Oetken, 1324 East Oak street, New Albany, had as their guests this week Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McAvoy, of Chicago. Mrs. McAvoy was formerly Miss Delia O'Brien, of New Albany.

Samuel P. Joyce and Miss Ida Clarke, well known young people, were married Tuesday at St. Louis Bertrand's church, many of their friends being present to witness the ceremony and tender congratulations.

Tuesday was a busy day for Cupid. Among those who joined their lives in the holy bonds of matrimony were Alvin Landsrath and Elizabeth Higgins, John W. Cunningham and Margaret Casey, and John H. Richard and Mary Crilly.

Will Daly, representing the Robinson-Norton Dry Goods Company, left Saturday on a business trip to Oklahoma and the Indian Territory and will not return before Christmas. His wide circle of friends predict that he will succeed in bringing a big trade to Louisville.

Dr. Peter S. Ganz, Henry C. Diersen and August Wempe are three of the happiest men in the city today. Their homes were visited by the stork and at each was left a handsome boy. All have been kept busy receiving congratulations and treating their friends.

Frank Mooney, the leading grocer of Bowling Green, was here this week as the guest of James and Peter Curran, formerly of that city. Mr. Mooney is one of the oldest residents of Bowling Green, and served with Admiral Dewey in the navy during the civil war.

Grant Kilkelly's young friends will be glad to know that he will soon be able to be out again. For the past two weeks he has been unable to leave his home, 1651 Prentiss street, on account of an abscess in his face, and his absence has been felt among his coterie of musical friends.

Miss Nellie McDonald, of the New York Store, left last night for a ten days' trip to New York City, and before returning will visit her former home in Syracuse. Miss McDonald has made many friends during her short residence here and is much pleased with the people of Louisville.

Tuesday morning the marriage of Timothy J. Stone and Miss Nora D. Broderick was solemnized at the Dominican church in the presence of many relatives and acquaintances. Both are well known in the Southern part of the city and the best wishes of a wide circle of friends follow them in their new life.

Miss Rose Jansen and Matt McDonald were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at St. Louis Bertrand's church. Will Jansen and Frank Sweeney acting as ushers. Immediately after ceremony the newly married couple left for a bridal tour through the South. A large number of friends attended the ceremony to tender their congratulations and best wishes to the happy pair.

One of the most enjoyable of the recent social events was the largely attended reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin McGue, 2225 Duncan street, in honor of their guests, Miss Mary L. and Mary Foley, of Richmond Center, Wis., who have made many friends during their visit here. The evening was devoted to vocal and instrumental selections and dancing, followed by a dainty luncheon.

The Good Will Social Club gave a delightful euchre at the home of Misses Mary and Tillie Cuniff, when prizes were awarded to Misses Evelyn Miller, Nona Nevis and Tillie Cuniff, and Messrs. C. McBaron, Thomas Gilligan and John Murphy. The next euchre will be held on Thursday evening, November 1, when the club will be entertained at the home of Misses Mamie and Katie McGue, 1847 Portland avenue.

Thomas O'Malley, the well known insurance man, and Miss Mary McBaron, sister of Con J. McBaron, of New Albany, were quietly married Thursday morning at Holy Trinity church by the Rev. Father Charles Curran. They will reside at 2305 Rowan street, this city, and will be at home to their friends after November 1. This news will be a great surprise to their many friends, as it is the first announcement of their union.

The marriage of Miss Anna Klosterman and Louis Gleeson will be solemnized with a nuptial mass at St. Anthony's church on Thanksgiving morning, and will be an event of much interest in German Catholic circles. Miss Klosterman is the bright and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Klosterman and is much admired for her many fine qualities. The lucky groom is with the Hubbsch Bros., and has a wide circle of friends who are extending congratulations.

St. Louis Bertrand's church will be the scene of a brilliant wedding on Wednesday morning, November 14, when Charles Weissberger will lead to the altar Miss Aileen Clements, the accomplished and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Clements, 2038 Floyd street, for which invitations are being issued. The marriage ceremony will be preceded by a nuptial mass, and will be witnessed by a large gathering of friends and admirers of the young couple, both of whom are prominent in our best society circles. For several years Mr. Weissberger has been the head of one of the most important departments in the dry goods house of Bacon & Sons, and also an active member of Trinity Council, Y. M. C. The Kentucky Irish American joins many others in tendering congratulations, with the wish that the union may be a long and happy one.

COMPLEX.

ated has developed a strong opposition to him, the belief prevailing that he will favor the corporation interests. The Democratic candidate is the present Governor, John A. Johnson, who, two years ago, made the most remarkable run of any Governor in the history of the United States. While Roosevelt received 125,000 votes, Johnson defeated his Republican opponent by nearly 7,000. Johnson has a clean record for the last two years, and has made no mistakes. That he still has a large number of Republican votes at his disposal is freely admitted.

Party lines in Iowa are badly broken, but the outcome of the election in November is not difficult to predict. Gov. Cummins, a candidate for re-election for a third term on the Republican ticket, will defeat Claude R. Porter, the Democratic candidate, by at least 50,000 plurality. While many radical stand patters and all of the corporation and railroad influence will be cast for Porter, many Democrats will vote for Cummins because he has a consistent record of opposition to railroad domination of Iowa political affairs.

Liquor legislation is the issue in the present campaign in New Jersey. The result of the primaries show that John F. Dryden is to succeed himself as United States Senator from this State. In Hudson and Essex counties the liquor legislation of last winter, known as the Bishops' law, is pertinent, and because of this act the Republicans will surely lose the Hudson Assembly delegation, which delegation they gained last winter for the first time in forty years.

Not in many years has the outcome of the Massachusetts gubernatorial election been so much in doubt as it is now. For the first time in at least a decade the Democrats are acknowledged to have better than a fighting chance. Their candidate is John B. Moran, District Attorney of Boston. An even year ago Moran was next to nobody politically. He had a restricted influence in a small political circle and he was best known as a shrewd criminal lawyer and as a man who wrote much and often to the newspapers on almost any subject. Today he is far and away the most powerful Democrat in Massachusetts.

John B. Moran's strength appears to lie chiefly in his personality. He is aggressive, picturesque. He is constantly doing the unexpected. Since he became District Attorney last January he has continually been in the limelight. He is the best known, most talked of man in the State. Also in his favor is the fact that organized labor will vote heavily for him. The Republican candidate this year is Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr. In Gov. Guild's favor is the State's normal large Republican majority, a well organized State Committee, an abundance of campaign money, and the generally creditable record made by the Governor while in office.

The political campaign is on in full blast in Rhode Island at present. The fight this year is an interesting one, and while much attention is being paid as usual to local affairs, the principal fight is for control of the next Legislature, which is to elect a United States Senator. The Democratic ticket is headed by James H. Higgins, Mayor of Pawtucket. Mayor Higgins, who is only twenty-five years old, has been Mayor of his native city four years, and is one of the most brilliant and polished orators in the State. Opposed to him is George H. Utter, the present Governor, who heads the Republican State ticket, and who has the advantage of being backed by a machine which the Democrats have been trying for forty years to overthrow. Associated with Higgins is Edward M. Sullivan, a lawyer, thirty-four years old, who promises, if elected, to break all the trusts in the State and procure the enforcement of laws which, he asserts, have not been enforced for years. The battle cry of the Democrats is "Down with Bossism!" and their target in this respect is Gen. Charles R. Brayton, National Committee man and leader of the Republican State organization.

UNIMPROVED.

Letters received this week from Texas state that Frank Hogan, one of the best known young men in Jeffersonville, who recently went to the Lone Star State in the hope of benefiting his health, is making no progress toward recovery. This will be sad news to his many friends and associates, who were in hopes that the change of climate would greatly benefit his condition for the better.

GOOD WOMAN GONE.

Mrs. Anna Bloemer, beloved wife of John H. Bloemer and mother of Major Herman Bloemer, of the Knights of St. John, passed to her eternal reward Tuesday evening at her home on West Kentucky street, after an illness of three months borne with Christian patience and fortitude. Deceased was one of the most valued members of St. Peter's congregation, and her death is mourned throughout the parish. Mrs. Bloemer was a native of this city, and is survived by her husband and six children, who feel keenly the loss of a devoted wife and loving mother. Her funeral took place Friday morning with a high mass of requiem, the edifice being filled with sorrowing friends and relatives. Members of the Knights of St. John acted as pall-bearers and tenderly bore the remains to their last resting place.

CHIEF MAHER RESTS.

Chief Tom Maher, head of the Louisville detective department, who has not been feeling well for several weeks, has been under the care of a physician at St. Anthony's Hospital for several days. Until his return to duty, which it is hoped will not be long delayed, Detective John Sexton will be in charge.

SECOND COLORED CHURCH.

Louisville will soon have her second Catholic church for colored people. The new edifice, which will be located on Lampton street, near Jackson, will be a nice frame structure, 24x50 feet, and will be known as St. Peter Claver's. This action on the part of Bishop McCloskey will be a boon to the negroes, who are sadly in need of a house of worship in that section of the city.

DECIDING SERIES.

Trinity Council's bowling team will roll the St. Catherine Council team of New Haven tonight at that place. This is the fifth match of these two teams and each has won two series on the home alleys, but the Trinity team is confident of winning the deciding series tonight. The following will make the trip: Albert F. Martin, Frank P. Burke, John X. Kinberger, Dennis J. Gleeson, John J. Barry and Ed. Wulf.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Minneapolis and St. Paul have each its Hibernian football team.

Hibernians will have a rest next week, as none of the divisions meet.
James Kilgely was given a cordial greeting by the members of Division
1 Tuesday night.

Though the new Albany invitation was received at a rather late date there was a fair representation from this city.

Division 3 has about completed arrangements for its reception and social session on Monday evening, November 5.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Halifax, N. S., celebrated the feast of their patron, St. Bridget, last Sunday with a banquet.

The Holyoke school committee will meet a committee of the Hibernians in regard to the question of placing Irish history in the public schools.

In the establishment of its library Division 10, of Chelsea, Mass., has gone a long way toward accomplishing something practical for members.

Division 3 of Minneapolis was prominent in the parade of Catholic societies that participated in the dedication of Holy Cross parochial school last Sunday.

Division 4 of Medford, Mass., will hold a sacred concert in the Medford Opera House on November 18, when National President Cummings will be the guest of the evening.

The Medford auxiliary, fast becoming one of the strongest in Massachusetts, will hold a character party at the Medford Opera House on November 9, which promises to amuse
and entertain the men.

An "Irish tea", promised to be a very novel entertainment, will be given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of East Boston in Hibernian Hall next month under the direction of the State Vice President, Mrs. Mary Cavanaugh.

There are ten divisions in Minneapolis and two more to be installed,
making the Hennepin County Board
the largest in Minnesota. President Fitzgerald's report at the biennial county convention showed a membership of 2,000.

When the Ladies' Auxiliary biennial county convention was held in Hartford, Conn., the forty delegates were tendered a banquet after the adjournment, and in the evening a complimentary dance and whist party was given in their honor.

Members should remember the importance of keeping their dues paid, which will obviate any question as to sick and death benefits. Under the law any member who allows his dues to become in arrears for three months suspends himself, action by the division not being necessary.

County President Tom Kelly, who is looked upon as one who will do the right thing regardless of friendships or affiliations, has a delicate situation before him for the coming year, and much will depend upon his wisdom and efficiency if he hopes to restore the order to the confidence
it formerly enjoyed among the clergy and laity of New York.

The field day to be held March 17
at Manchester is to be a big affair.
It is expected that one of the largest parades ever held in New Hampshire will take place, and it will not be confined to the members of the county, but from all over the State, and many other Irish organizations will probably participate. There will be a banquet after the parade and the members will enjoy a social time
the remainder of the day.

State President Rogers requests
the various sections of Massachusetts to increase the membership 24 per cent. during the coming year. It is estimated that there are now 26,000 members in the State, and if the increase asked for was obtained it would mean a membership of 39,000
for the next national convention.

The several Hibernian hall societies in Boston are prospering and stock is reported selling rapidly.
Ground will be broken soon in South
Boston and Roxbury for new edifices.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Eight Vassar Girls will top
the bill at the Hopkins next week.
These young women are singers, instrumentalists and dancers, with an elaborate electrical waltz which is mentioned as one of the features of the evening. With George Wilson, the old time minstrel, and a star olio, the bill offered is one of the best of the season and should draw crowded houses.

Reilly and Woods' big show will be next week's offering at the Buckingham. This is a great vaudeville organization that has had twenty-three years of success. Pat Reilly will be the star in the musical farce called "A Night in Atlantic City." The vaudeville turns are said to be new and better than ever.

The only attraction at Macauley's
next week will be "The Ham Tree,"
which is booked for Friday and Saturday next, with Saturday matinee.
This delightful musical play was seen here last season with McIntyre and Heath in the leading roles, and was a big hit. This hit seems sure to be duplicated.

"The Pit" will be the offering at the Masonic all of next week. This piece has met with success wherever presented. It is a play of great interest and the coming cast is said to be a good one.

SAVED FROM DEATH.

Dennis Griffin, an aged gentleman
residing on West Madison street,
came near death Monday morning.
The old man was on his way to early mass at the Cathedral, and in crossing the street did not notice the car
that was approaching. Motorman Randall saw his predicament, and shutting off the current leaned forward and caught Griffin just as he was struck, thus saving him from being ground to death beneath the car. Though somewhat bruised he was more scared than injured.

HINTS ON STYLE.

In leather bags the call appears to tend in the direction of large sizes.
For boys from six to eight years
the Russian blouse is still fashionable.

Lace yokes are now regarded with favor, but all kinds of yokes are stylish.

The blouse waist, whether separate or not, still continues fashionable for young girls.

The vogue of the ordinary corselet belt bids fair to continue through the coming winter.

Nothing is more fashionable for veils than some shade of gray, either in gauze or net, but in all cases very transparent.

Winter styles show numerous bertha and bretelle arrangements on all of the most dressy gowns.

Lace neckwear of every character is fashionable, from the little lace stock up to plastrons and yokes.

The "jumper" style in waists is to have great vogue this winter. This is a pretty style for both ladies and misses.

Black materials of all sorts are to be very fashionable this winter.
Next in order come blues, greens,
reds, browns and grays.

Gray is still a very fashionable color for boys' suits. Everything from the dark Oxford to the light tones in this shade is fashionable.

Fashionable tailors and exclusive garment shops are showing many winter suits in worsteds in gray and black and white mixture, checks and plaids.

For general wear the small hat is becoming more popular. The large hat, however, will hold its possession as a dressy favorite, and is likely to be used in felt and velvet effects alike.

For the late fall and winter season darker colors than those of last year will prevail. This is true especially of tailor gowns and separate coats and wraps not intended for evening wear.

EUCHE AND DANCE.

The Young Ladies' Auxiliary, of Trinity Council, Y. M. L., are preparing to give a euche and dance at Fisher's Hall on Thursday evening November 15, and have secured many handsome prizes for the euche. This is the first social event given by the auxiliary for the winter season, and will no doubt be a worthy successor to the popular affairs of the kind given in the past.

MARRIED AT CHICAGO.

Moses Doyle, a well known resident of New Albany employed at the Ohio Falls Iron Works, has returned from Chicago, bringing with him a handsome bride, to whom he was married Monday evening. The happy couple will reside in New Albany and are receiving congratulations at their home. Mrs. Doyle was Mrs. Mary Doan, and is a most charming woman.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest
Members Here and Elsewhere.

Open meetings and smoke talks are of frequent occurrence among the Rhode Island councils.

Shawmut Council of Boston held a whist and dancing party in aid of St. Philip's church Wednesday evening at Catholic Union Hall.

The council at Bristol, R. I., opened a bazar, Tuesday night to entertain for a week, and observed Friday evening as Columbus night.

Milwaukee Council will devote three evenings during the coming season to a discussion of Socialism.
Rev. Father Hengell, William George
Bruce, H. J. Desmond and Most Rev.
Archbishop Messmer are announced
as the speakers.

The annual State parade of the Rhode Island Knights at Providence last Sunday was the largest in the history of the organization. The twenty-one councils of the State were in line with five bands of music.
Following the musical vespers at the Cathedral and sermon by Rev. Monsignor Thomas Doran the parade proceeded to Infantry Hall, where a fine collation was served and a social hour was enjoyed by the visiting Knights.

WOMAN THE QUEEN.

Dangers That Follow Her Participation in Public Affairs.

"Woman should be queen of the home," said President Oelkers while addressing the Federated German Catholic Societies, "and all influences tending to take her from this sphere of life should be deprecated. I consider it my duty to touch upon the question of participation of woman in public affairs. The church has always taught that man is the head of the family, but otherwise it concedes full equality to man and wife, and upon these grounds it is to be regretted that women are more and more pushing themselves into public life. We have also in our own Catholic societies nothing in the world more respected, more sung by the poets and honored by the wise than the mother who by her high and noble mission is to teach and educate the future generations. The purity of this picture must soon fade away if it daily comes in contact with the passions and activities of public life. I agree thoroughly with President Roosevelt and former President Cleveland that it is the highest duty of woman to educate good and useful citizens for God and State. Woman can only lose her dignity and due respect when she steps out of her proper sphere of activity into that of a too great participation in public affairs."

RECENT DEATHS.

With deep regret did the friends of Herman and Mary Bohlen learn of the death of their bright little daughter, Yvonne Magdalene, which occurred Tuesday. The funeral took place Thursday and the interment was in St. Louis cemetery.

The grim reaper has made sad the home of John and Carrie Martin, having taken from them their infant son John Louis, whose remains were tenderly laid to rest last Monday.
For the bereaved parents there is sincere sympathy.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Strubel, beloved wife of William Strubel, 712 East Oak street, took place Monday morning from St. Vincent de Paul's with a solemn mass of requiem. Her death caused profound sorrow throughout that section known as Germantown, where she was widely known and highly respected. Besides her husband Misses Catherine and Helen and John and Matthew Strubel survive her.

John Delaney, son of the late Martin Delaney and brother of Deputy Assessor James Delaney and Misses Blanche and Rose Delaney, 2312 West
Market street, was stricken Tuesday morning with heart disease and expired at 5 o'clock. He was forty-three years of age and unmarried.
The esteem in which he was held was manifested by the large attendance at the funeral, which took place
Wednesday from St. Patrick's church.

HIT BY CAR.

James Shaughnessy, who resides
with his family at Eighth and St.
Catherine streets, was hit by a street car at Second and Market streets Monday afternoon and seriously injured. He is an employee of the city and was unconscious for some time after the accident. At last reports his condition was looked upon as precarious.

NARROW ESCAPE.

William Ryan, night watchman for the Louisville Railway Company, had a narrow escape from fatal injury Monday evening. While crossing the street at Frankfort and Frank avenues an unseen car bore down on him and knocked him to the ground.
He was picked up and removed to St. Anthony's Hospital, where it was discovered that besides several bad body bruises he had sustained internal injuries. At last reports his condition was improving.

FOOTBALL.

In the game played last Saturday
at Lebanon between the St. Mary's College and Manual Training High School eleven the latter sustained an ignominious defeat. The playing of the college boys was a surprise to the Manuals, who were never in the game. Both teams were evenly matched, which makes the loss of the game the more keenly felt by the boys from the city. The only incident that marred the sport was the accident that befell Leonard McHugh, of the college team, who sustained a broken leg in one of the rushes.
McHugh is a son of Patrick McHugh, Elveson and Meale, and letters from St. Mary's say he is improving rapidly.

THE "WHY" OF IT.

In all piano players, the "pneumatics" are the vital part of the entire mechanism. In all piano players, EXCEPT THE CECILIAN these "pneumatics" are made of wood and leather and that's where the trouble comes in. Ever get your shoes wet and have them dry hard and stiff? Leather will do that in damp weather, for it absorbs the moisture. Ever had a door or window stick in your house? It's because the wood swells during the damp weather. That's the trouble with the wood and leather "pneumatics." They are affected by the constant changes in the weather and can't do the work properly.

In the Cecilian Piano Player mechanism the "pneumatics" and the wind chest are made of metal—brass, steel and phosphor bronze—weather doesn't affect them in any way. They don't swell, neither do they shrink, and that's why they are always in perfect working order.

CHARLES FINEGAN

Elected Treasurer and Custodian
for Division 1,
A. O. H.

A feeling of unusual sadness prevailed at the meeting of Division 1, A. O. H., Tuesday night. Before assuming the chair it was the painful duty of President John M. Mulloy to announce the death of two most worthy members, Charles Cavanaugh and Frank L. Haines, who had passed into eternity during the preceding week. The death claims of each were promptly allowed, as were also those of the members on the sick list.

An invitation from Division 1, of New Albany, saying they would appreciate a visit from their Kentucky brethren to the bazaar in progress in Holy Trinity Hall, was accepted with the understanding that as many as could would attend Friday night. George English, who had been ill, was present, and Robert Hagan was reported improving. John Carroll, another member, was reported as having sustained a fracture of the foot and unable to leave his home.

The resignation of Thomas Walsh, the popular Treasurer, was received and accepted with feelings of sincere regret, and Charles J. Finegan, a well known Nineteenth-street grocer, was elected to succeed him as Treasurer and custodian of the funds of the mother division of the city. The resignation of Treasurer Walsh was due to the fact that he contemplates leaving the bar to enter the holy priesthood and could not devote the necessary time to the office.

After the adoption of appropriate resolutions and prayers for the repose of the souls of the departed members the meeting was adjourned out of respect to their memory.

HOME FROM ROME.

Col. Joe Herrmann Has Audience With the Holy Father.

Col. F. Joseph Herrmann, President of the Sinking Fund Commission, and his wife and Col. John P. Oertel reached home Tuesday night from a European trip that lasted three months, and during which they visited the old home of Mr. Herrmann in France, Germany, Switzerland and Italy. The three were in Rome the first week of this month and on October 4 were granted a special audience with the Holy Father, Pope Pius X. They shook hands with the Pope, who was most affable and conversed in French. He inquired as to their home in Kentucky and left upon them a lasting impression as a mild and kindly man. Col. Herrmann says the Holy Father showed no signs of weakness or illness incident to age. "The old country is all right," he said upon his arrival, "but America is good enough for me. Every time I go to Europe I come back a better American." But for lack of time the party would have visited Ireland.

NEWMAN FOR COMMISSIONER.

The name of J. W. Newman, of Woodford county, will appear on the primary ballot of the Democratic party for the nomination for Commissioner of Agriculture, Labor and Statistics. Mr. Newman is a man of excellent qualifications and well fitted for the place. Though yet a comparatively young man, he is quite an old resident, having been born in the State. Mr. Newman rendered the State valuable service as a member of the Legislature, and the fact that he is a farmer lends a peculiar and great strength to his candidacy. If he obtains the office he will have for his deputy the Hon. Albert H. Charlton, one of the oldest and best known trades union men in Louisville, who is working hard to bring out a big vote for his chief.

GOES TO RFT.

Louis Seeger and Casper Hammer have gone to Martinsville and will not return until the latter part of next week. Both have just completed a busy and successful season and are at the health resort for a long rest and good time.

WANTS IRISH HOME.

Queen Elizabeth of Roumania is looking for a residence in Connemara, Ireland. On a former visit there she pronounced it the most romantic place she had ever seen. Long ago she formed a plan to write an Irish romantic story, and she considers that residence amid typical Irish scenery and surroundings is essential to supplying realistic color. The charms of Western Ireland are attracting many noble residents. The Queen of Spain says her greatest delight would be to have a house there. Earl Dudley, lately Viceroy, has taken a permanent residence in Roscommon.

WILL PAY LEVY.

Division 4, A. O. H., Again
Aids San Francisco Sufferers.

Division 4, of the Ancient Order of Hibernians again demonstrated the spirit of generosity that characterizes that body Tuesday night, when an appropriation was made to meet the per capita tax of twenty-five cents per member that was levied by the national convention to assist the San Francisco sufferers. Just as soon as news of the great catastrophe reached Louisville the different divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians responded promptly and generously to the appeals for aid for the stricken city, and it was not thought they would be further taxed. But the loss was so great and so many were left destitute that the national convention decided upon an assessment of fifty cents per member, which will aggregate about $100,000, which will be disbursed under the direction of the National officers. State President Butler was present and addressed the members upon the question, telling of the situation in 'Frisco at present, after which the assessment was allowed by a unanimous vote.

Invitations to the bazar being held in New Albany and the social session of Division 3 were accepted, and the Visiting Committee reported Michael Costello off the sick list. President Murphy called attention to the meeting of the County Board and urged the delegates to attend. The other business was only of routine character.

TRINITY WINS.

Match Bowling Game With Phil Sheridan Council
of Bellevue.

The Phil Sheridan Council, Y. M. I., bowling team of Bellevue, accompanied by a party of rosters, were here last Sunday to roll a match game with Trinity Council's team, on Grote's alleys, the latter being victorious in three straight games, after which the entire party was served with supper in Grote's parlors. Short talks were made by several of the visitors, thanking the members of Trinity Council for the kind treatment accorded them and challenging the victors for a return match at Bellevue in the near future, which was accepted. The visiting party was composed of Clarence Gott, Henry Bezdol, Andrew Streck, Joseph Schultz, Val Theilm, William Grollich, John Cello, Fred Stagenhorst, Andrew Friedhof, M. Schmidt, Frank Witt, John Hills and Peter Buelte. Trinity Council's team was composed of President A. F. Martin, Ben Schneider, John J. Barry, Dennis J. Gleason and John X. Kinberger, with Ed. Wolf and Ben Schalk in command of the Trinity rosters.

CARTER'S GOOD RECORD.

In this issue appears the card of Hon. Lillara G. Carter, of Lawrenceburg, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General. Mr. Carter was born in Owen county and has always been a Democrat. Twice he served as Democratic Elector, succeeded Gov. Goebel as President of the State Senate, and was acting Lieutenant Governor for two years. He is a man of the strictest integrity, and no doubt if named for the office to which he aspires he would bend his every effort to make the State a faithful Attorney General. The Democrats of Kentucky are invited to give his candidacy thoughtful consideration. Mr. Carter was here for several days this week and made friendships that will bring him a tremendous vote.

CROSS IN PLACE.

The cross for the tower of St. Joseph's church on Washington street, which was blessed with impressive ceremonies last Sunday, has been placed in position. This fine church now presents a most imposing appearance and its fine cross is visible for a long distance.
